

IMAGES: Improving MAnagement of CSOs in Education Sector in Sierra Leone

AVSI and its local partners Family Homes Movement (FHM) and St. Mary's Home of Charity (SMHC) will enhance the contribution of local CSOs in the education sector to trigger the development processes in Sierra Leone, thanks to the funding of the European Union.

The Action aims at unlocking local CSOs' potential through the strengthening of their capacities and competences. This will in turn paved the way to make CSOs actors of development through the promotion of targeted measures which will reduce poverty, improve the educational system and overcome marginalization of vulnerable youth.

The Action will last for 3 years (2018-2021) and it will take place in the district of Tonkolili, Western Area, Bombali and Port Loko whereas AVSI and its local partners closely work for and with these communities and schools. All relevant stakeholders have been targeted to reach a real and sustainable impact. School staff and social workers will receive specific training packages to improve their teaching and learning techniques while CSOs will improve their managerial, organizational and technical capacities. The Action also involves young people at risk of marginalization, especially young mother, to increase their access to education as well as job readiness.
